Angels In Amplifiers: 'I'm Alright'

VERSE 1
I know the season's ripe for change
It's changing all around
I know the reasons you've arranged
They're tearing me down
Where is a peacefulness of mind?
Where will my heart come back to life?
CHORUS 1
I'm alright
As I pick up the pieces that I've left of me
I'm alright
Being away from you
And I'll be fine
Cleaning out the corner
Putting back in order
But know I will always have this too
A little piece of you
How could we let this slip away?
It's slipping through my hands
How can the darkness blind the day?
Bring back the light
Where is a pleasure in the pain?
Where is my shelter in the rain?

Well I'm alright
As I pick up the pieces that I've left of me
I'm alright
Being away from you
And I'll be fine
Cleaning out the corner
Put it back in order
But know I will always have this too
A little piece of you
MIDDLE SECTION
Help me dry all my tears and
Help me allay all my fears and
Help me I think I am falling
Does anybody hear me calling?
Help me dry all my tears and
Help me allay all my fears and
Help me I think I am falling
Does anybody hear me calling?
I'm alright
As I pick up the pieces that I've left of me
I'm alright
Being away from you
And I'll be fine
Cleaning out the corner
Put it back in order
But know I will always have this too

Oh yeah
I'm alright
As I pick up the pieces that I've left of me
I'm alright
Being away from you
And I'll be fine
Cleaning out the corner
Putting back in order
But know I will always have this too
A little piece of you
